random. It does not agree, however, that any change of regulation is required to accomplish the stated purpose. The language of Regulation No. paragraph 2 a is, it is felt, subject to an interpretation sufficiently broad to produce the effect suggested by the Deputy Comptroller. It may be helpful in this respect to regard the Deputy Director, in each case, as the source of the sutherity which is delegated to each of subordinates, and that each is his turn is able to delegate so much of this derived authority, in the same memor, to such of his our subordinates as need it to accomplish the mission of the particular office.

3. It is recommended that the Regulations Control Staff be instructed to adopt the policy of emitting references to designees in proposed regulatory issuences except in those cases where delegations of authority are not permitted.
